source ~ LibraryFrom Goodreads: Willow arrives in London looking to join forces with Angel and Faith and gain access to Angel's son, Connor. With Connor's help, Willow hopes to travel to the fearsome hell dimension, Quor'toth, and restore magic to earth! On the dark side of the moon, Spike embraces some peace, quiet, and distance from the Slayer. But when a pack of demons and a succubus rip him from his melancholic reverie, he embarks on an unexpected adventure that reveals some hard truths. First off, this book is ginormous. Good thing it comes with its own ribbon bookmark because I don't have a lot of bookmarks that are very large. Second, the artwork is gorgeous. Just gorgeous. And third, Spike! Yes, I know this book is titled Angel Faith and there's plenty of them (with Willow and Connor, too), but Spike's story takes up about half of the book. So, yay! Since I've read most of Buffy Season 9 (except #4 which I've been waiting on for months from the library) I'm not lost when it comes to Spike's story. It might not make too much sense if you haven't read Buffy Season 9, #2. But at the end? Was that Riley? No eye patch, so it couldn't be Xander, so I'm going with Riley. But seriously. He looks nothing like anyone I know from the Buffyverse, but Spike calls him Wanker, so I'll go with Riley. For flocks sake, try to get these characters at least close to the way the actors look, so we know who the hell they are. So annoying. Anyway, the story arcs in both stories are decent and I have no berating to administer. Carry on. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Beautiful product. By Xane This is a gorgeous book! Way bigger than I expected, really high quality. And the picture you see here featuring Spike, which is why I ordered it, is what you get. Love it.

Collects the third volume of Angel Faith, alongside Spike: A Dark Place, in a deluxe hardcover format with extensive extras from artist Rebekah Isaacs!

About the Author In the words of Christos Gage... I was born in New York, then grew up in Athens, Greece and North Grafton, Massachusetts. Started reading at age 3, discovered comics soon after. First comic collected and saved: Marvel's Godzilla. Never quit comics for girls the way some flip-floppers do, though I did keep it in the closet at times, for which I am deeply ashamed. Attended Brown University (here's a secret: the Ivy League is overrated) where I majored in American Civilization, a field that allowed me to take classes like The Blues and The Spy Novel, which have come in a lot handier in my life than algebra. Got a Master's Degree in Screenwriting from the American Film Institute. Sold my first screenplay in 1997 and have been a professional writer ever since, with several scripts sitting on shelves gathering dust and a few actually produced. Started writing comics in December 2004. Married to the lovely Southern firecracker Ruth Fletcher Gage, who is my writing partner in film and television, though she had enough sense to stay away from Teenage Caveman. We have plans to collaborate on two graphic novels in the future. We live with our cats, Frankie and Josie. The author lives in Santa Monica, CA..
