This volume starts off with Sato wanting a valentine's day chocolate from Yoshida. Of course, Yoshida was reluctant to the idea of giving Sato one because he hasn't ever gotten a valentine's day chocolate. There is some drama when Sato's "girlfriend" shows up and demanded that he only accepts chocolates from "her". It turned out it be Murakami that dressed as girl. I think Sato asked him to do that so he Yoshida's the only one that gives him chocolate. On Valentine's day, Sato gives Yoshida a valentine's day chocolate to Yoshida, and Yoshida finally decides to give Sato a chocolate. Sato was really happy. In the second chapter, there were rumors that there is a ghost at the school. So, Sato, Akimoto, Makimura, and Yoshida go to the school- at night- and check it out. However, Yoshida is dragged to go alone with them. The whole time, Yoshida hides behind Sato, and in the end, Yoshida faints. Yoshida wakes up and notices that Sato is giving him a piggy-back ride. In the next chapter, the girls trap Yoshida in telling them why Sato was giving him a piggy-back ride, but Yoshida is too embarrassed to tell them. So, the girls go after his two friends in order to find out, and they're forced to tell the girls. Then, the girls decided to make a plan in order to scare Yoshida. They succeeded, and Yoshida faints from being frightened. But then Sato appears and came to pick up Yoshida because he heard him scream, but instead of a piggy-back ride, Sato carries Yoshida in his arms (princess style). In the next chapter, everyone showed up to school during their summer vacation. Sato seems to be really excited, and the reason is because he gets to see Yoshida- apparently they only talked and texted. Makimura decides they should to go to the beach, everyone agrees, and Sato remembered that Tsuyako asked them to go to a tropical island. They all agreed, but she asked them to meet them at a canyon. Sato and Yoshida were very suspicious of Tsuyako and the meeting place. It turned out to be a trap to send them to a deserted island. While trapped on the island, Yoshida and Sato sneak out at night- very suspicious. They didn't show what they were doing at night, but you can guess what they did. They must've been saved because in the last chapter they're at the school. The girls at the school surround Sato, and Yoshida can't get through the crowd. He gives up trying to get to Sato, but then the brother Nozawa and the sister Nozawa show up and tell Yoshida that they see arousal and jealousy in his eyes. It's so funny from the look of Yoshida's face and how the brother and sister fight over who's going to paint him. In the end, they explained and showed what Yoshida and Sato did the nights they sneaked off at the deserted island. They made-out! but apparently they didn't go all the way. I can't wait to read volume 7! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Non Stop Comedy with Non Stop Cute Love By Tristan A. Hayes Volume 6 (covering chp 22 - 26) is potentially the best volume yet of His Favorite (Aitsu no Daihonmei). It features the same things that readers have come to love about the series, the cute and adorable lovey feelings offered from the duo but additionally with that classic goofy looking art for awkward Yoshida and the oftentimes touchy and close Sato. Yoshida's fans continue to be persistence sources of comedy here with Makimura often taking the lead on making them go through various situations. The most memorable here was the case to solve various scary mysteries and suggesting that who ever says they are scared has to say the one they love. Makimura was also extremely funny in the valentines day chapter, but also didn't take away attention from the main event with Yoshida attempting to give candy to the one he loves. What really made this chapter a blast was a true surprise that can only be explored in the chapter going to the deserted island and the nighttime activities by the ocean. One can only hope more will happen in the future and if it will be shown. Truly amazing volume. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Adorable Couple By 6060842 This volume consists of cute short stories, and Sato seems more lovey dovey in this volume, much to Yoshida's chagrin. Sato and Yoshida have a honeymoon of sorts during their summer vacation and take their relationship a little further. The supporting characters are hilarious, though the scene with the Nozawa twins may not be as funny to those who haven't read the previous volumes. Another enjoyable volume.

One hot guy, one funny-looking guy, one hilarious couple! Awkward Yoshida's life got flipped upside down when the hottest guy in school started hanging around him. Sato's feelings for Yoshida are as strong as ever, and he intends to prove it with a devious plan for Valentine's Day!
