As the first international publishing house, Bruno Gmuender started to promote gay manga culture for the English-speaking countries by releasing several certified English translations of manga books per year. The imprint Massive Manga by Bruno Gmuender assures highest quality in translation and manufacturing, introducing Japan's finest homoerotic manga to a broader audience. The newest discovery for English-speaking readers is Noda Gaku. The young gay manga artist is famous for his Scott Pilgrim fan fiction character

Stephen Stills. Now he is back with a new story for the first time in English! "Judo Club" is a manga for the lovers of beefy men. A romp in a college judo club leads to sexy adventures among gachimuchi (meaning: really buff) wrestlers and their coach. Its a story as funny as cute and hot. A promising English debut of an outstanding manga artist whose characteristic style of drawing is already iconic.
