JSA Deserves the AttentionBy Robert WrightGreat collection of all eras of the JSA.For modern fans, the Golden age and early Silver Age tales, especially, may be rough going. Storytelling conventions were just different. But this is a celebration of all eras, so there is really something for everyone. The JSA (along with the Legion) are just a team concept that works across any era. This collection shows why, as they fly under the guidance of many artists and writers. 55 of 58 people found the following review helpful. A good representation of the Society's 75 year history. By Greg I really wish DC would publish the contents of these Anniversary editions in advance. Here's what's in this volume... Part 1: For America and Democracy! (Introduction by Roy Thomas) "For America and Democracy" from ALL-STAR COMICS #4 (1941) "The Injustice Society of the World" from ALL-STAR COMICS #37 (1947) "The Man Who Conquered the Solar System" from ALL-STAR COMICS #55 (1950) Part 2: The Silver Age of Crisis (Introduction by Roy Thomas) "Crisis on Earth-One" from JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #21 (1963) "Crisis on Earth-Two" from JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #22 (1963) "The Most Dangerous Earth of All" from JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #30 (1964) "The Bridge Between Earths" from JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #47 (1966) "Peril of the Paired Planets" from JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #82 (1970) "Where Valor Fails... Will Magic Triumph?" from JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #83 (1970) Part 3: Bronze Age and Beyond (Introduction by Roy Thomas) "The Defeat of the Justice Society" from ADVENTURE COMICS #466 (1979) "All-Star Squadron" from JUSTICE LEAGUE OF AMERICA #193 (1981) "The First Case of the Justice Society of America" from ALL-STAR SQUADRON #67 (1986) Part 4: The JSA Returns (Introduction by Ivan Cohen) "JSA No More?" from JUSTICE SOCIETY OF AMERICA #10 (1992) "The JSA Returns, Conclusion: Time's Arrow" from ALL-STAR COMICS #2 (1999) "The Return of Hawkman: Seven Devils" from JSA #25 (2001) "What a Wonderful World" from JUSTICE SOCIETY OF AMERICA #10 (2007) Part 5: Revamp (Introduction by Ivan Cohen) "End Times" from EARTH 2 #6 (2012) 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. The Best of the Greatest Generation of Heroes. By David Hodges A very nice collection of classic JSA stories through the years. My only complaint is I would have liked more than the 3 classic stories from the original run and less of the Silver Age JSA/JLA team ups. Overall, well worth it if you love the JSA.

Comic book history was made in 1940 with the introduction of the Justice Society of America in ALL-STAR COMICS. Hour-Man, Doctor Fate, The Spectre, The Sandman, The Atom, The Flash, The Green Lantern and Hawkman all became acquainted with one another and the world met its first super-hero team! In the seventy-five years since their inaugural meeting, new generations of heroes including Superman, Wildcat, and Wonder Woman have come to the table with the purpose of protecting the DCU with their combined crime-fighting powers! From their first momentous team up by Gardner Fox and Everett E. Hibbard, to their modern member rosters by David Goyer and Geoff Johns, JUSTICE SOCIETY OF AMERICA: A CELEBRATION OF 75 YEARS collects stories that unite DC Comics heroes over time and throughout the ages, from such legendary talents as Roy Thomas, Dennis O'Neil, Paul Levitz, Robert Kanigher, James Robinson, and more!

.About the Author Roy Thomas has written and often edited comics since 1965, mostly for DC and Marvel. He continues to script comics as well as editing the comics-history magazine Alter Ego for TwoMorrows Publishing. He is also the editor of a series of four books about the Justice Society of America, its heroes and its creators, published under the umbrella title The All-Star Companion. He and his wife Dann live in rural South Carolina, surrounded by a menagerie of birds and beasts.
