Slight spoilersBy LeafJust when Natsu and Komomo start getting along and preparing for the Meli-Melo festival, rich French girl Noelle steps in. She's a yandere who's done cruel things to girls that get in her way and her next target is Komomo.Komomo is struggling to comprehend the fact that people are telling her that she has feelings for Natsu, when she's positive she doesn't. She doesn't realize that love isn't limited to exciting feelings like she held for Seto. She's comfortable around Natsu and feels his pain when someone hurts him."In all my life I have never felt so enraged."This volume showcases the fact that love takes many forms. And that true love is when you care so much about another person that anything that hurts them, or makes them happy is something you also feel. When Natsu's best friend, Mitsuru shows up, he has a time limit. He's going to be married to some rich lady and he wants to experience love. But even after taking Komomo out on a date he realizes that love doesn't just bloom. So he vows to help Natsu and Komomo come to terms with their feelings. But the two are adamant about how they don't see the other in that way. The volume ends with Mitsuru questioning Komomo's heart and Natsu's actions from before. Another delightfully cute volume in a series I'm so glad I picked up. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Absolutely a delight By Isabel Hillock Davidson I've been a fan of this manga creator for a while (Seiyuu-Ka! is a masterpiece) but I connected to Komomo on a spiritual level... The story is simple (rich girl becomes poor as childhood friend is now her only hope..) but the narrative is so enjoyable. The characters are complex (as complex as a light shoujo can get) and Komomo has so many moments where I'm just like "hell ya" she's so great. Also the art is incredible. A long way since Special A, for sure... Warning though, looking at these impeccably rendered sweets will make you wanna bake.. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By J.D. Brewer Great book.

As a little girl, Komomo Ninomiya delighted in picking on Natsu Azumi, the son of her family's pastry chef. Ten years later, when the family fortune is lost and she has no place to live, Komomo encounters Natsu again in her hour of need. Now that Natsu is a master pastry chef in his own right, he'll help Komomo-but only if she works for him at his new confiserie! Komomo attends her first festival by working in the Mli-Mlo food truck. Natsu keeps snubbing her in front of Noelle toile, an entitled rich girl who became attached to him when he lived in France. Komomo realizes that Natsu must be in love with Noelle, but why is Komomo so upset by it?
