Pretty good but with a lot of overlap with other collections By rampageous_cuss This collection of strips includes quite a number published elsewhere, with nine starring Mr. Natural, including "... Encounters Flakey Foot", "...the Zen Master", "...in Death Valley", "... Visits the City"; in addition to stories such as "Meatball"; "It's Cosmic"; and a series of images from greetings cards. Selections are from "Evo", "Head Comix", "Yarrowstalks", "Zap Comix" etc... This isn't necessarily Fantagraphics' fault as overlap with the more comprehensive "R. Crumb's Carload o' Comics" is because THAT collection was published by J.B. Rund of Kitchen Sink Press. The book also contains an introduction by Crumb eulogizing his late friend Marty Pahl, and photographs of Crumb, wives Dana and Aline, sister Sandra and friend Pahl. I'd say it's a decent retrospective for anyone wanting an example of the master of the undergrounds. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. So glad these are still available! By murderbymedia I was happy to see this set is still in print. I used to have the whole series around 20 years but had to sell them when I was confronted by some of economic reversals. Now I can start purchasing them all over again. Now if they will just reprint the hardcover editions of the various EC titles I will be ecstatic!! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Vol. 4 nice addition/edition! By Darsen Nice sampling for Crumb fans. But you gotta be a fan... Fourth in the whole-life series.

A classic volume of the definitive Complete Crumb library, back in print after years of unavailability! The Complete Crumb Comics Vol. 4: Mr. Sixties! continues the multi-volume series comprising the complete works of the legendary cartoonist R. Crumb, one of America's most original, trenchant, and uncompromising satirists. The series includes the earliest, heretofore unpublished comic strips, as well as his sketchbooks, underground comix, dramatic and autobiographical strips, and his classic cartoon creations Fritz the Cat and Mr. Natural. In this volume: Zap #0 #1 ("Keep On Truckin'!"), Crumb's work from the East Village Other and Yarrowstalks, plus much rare art, some of Crumb's long-lost American Greetings cards from the '60s, and more. "I figured it out somehow the way to put the stoned experience into a series of cartoon panels. I began to submit LSD-inspired strips to underground papers... not for pay... never gave it a thought... but they loved them. These 1967 strips of mine contained the hopeful spirit of the times, drawn in a more lovable 'bigfoot' style. The stuff caught on. They wanted more. Suddenly I was able to churn it out... late that summer one of the underground paper publishers asked me to do an entire issue of his paper Yarrowstalks (corny hippy spiritual stuff 'yarrowstalks' are what they used to throw the 'I Ching'). This went over so well that he suggested I draw comic books and he would publish them. This was a thrilling idea to me a dream come true..." R. Crumb, from his introduction to this volume 16 color, 128 black white illustrations
